Psy.D. 1986, Clinical Psychology, Forest Institute of Professional Psychology, Des Plaines, Illinois

M.Ed. 1976, Counseling Psychology, University of Idaho, Moscow, Idaho

B.S. 1972, Psychology, University of Idaho, Moscow, Idaho

Licensure: Clinical Psychologist, Illinois, October 1987, (License; 071-003686)

American Board of Professional Psychology: 2011,
Diplomate in forensic psychology

SUMMARY

My professional activities in psychology include more than 23 years experience over a broad range of psychological services including administrative positions within corrections, residential psychiatric and developmental disabilities, as well as direct services in independent practice. Professional activities since December 2004, have involved forensic psychology, teaching, and volunteer services. To maintain currency in evidenced based practice, I have attended numerous trainings and workshops in assessment, psychotherapy, and forensic psychology. (A list of CEU's is available upon request.)

ADMINISTRATIVE; STATE OF ILLINOIS (1996 To 2004)

My work in state agencies (August 1996 - December 2004) included administrative, mental health, and forensic services within Illinois Department of Corrections (IDOC), Illinois Department of Human Services (IDHS), and IDHS Developmental Disabilities.

While with IDOC, I acquired experience implementing Illinois law. I was assigned to work with a steering committee of professionals from five agencies; IDOC, IDHS, Governor's Office, Attorney General, and Office of Budget to implement the Sexually Violent Persons Civil Commitment Act (725 ILCS 207/5).

Within IDHS, I acquired experience in treatment of mental illness and substance abuse, forensic assessments of NGRI for conditional release, and other forensic matters related to mental illness and developmental disabilities.

PSYCHOLOGY PRACTICE; CLINICAL/FORENSIC/TEACHING/SUPERVISION (1987 TO THE PRESENT)

Since licensure, October 1987, I have provided a range of psychological services as an independent contractor and full and part-time employee. These activities have included psychotherapy, teaching, and forensic assessments.

In forensic proceedings for both prosecution and defense, I have provided court related assessments, reports, and testified in both adult and juvenile proceedings in areas including fitness to stand trial, sanity, and risk for violence. Also, I have evaluated law enforcement officers for fitness for duty and provided psychological services related to sentencing mitigation in capital offenses.

On a part-time basis, since 1991, I have volunteered psychological services for political refugees who are survivors of torture and other violence.

ADMINISTRATIVE; STATE OF ILLINOIS

(August 1996 to December 2004)

IDHS, Director of Psychological Services, Ann Kiley Center for Developmental Disabilities, Waukegan, Illinois

(May 7, 2003 to November 30, 2004: I opted for an early retirement from state employment. I have continued as an independent contractor for psychological services, conducting psychological assessments, providing volunteer psychotherapy services, and other professional activities. (For specific information, see Private Practice, page 3 and subsequent sections of CV.)

RESEARCH AND PRESENTATIONS

“Experimentally Induced Neurosis in Sentencing Mitigation” Presented a case study outlining classic behavioral principles associated with the collapse of regulation within personality and subsequent homicide. Paper presented at the American Academy of Forensic Sciences Annual Meeting, San Antonio, Texas. (AAFS Meeting, page 1-17, February 17, 1994)

“Factorial Analysis of Chemical Dependence and Personality Traits” (unpublished). This research was based on data from 1100 inpatient profiles from the Clinical Analysis Questionnaire, Parts I and II, and The Addictions Severity Index. No significant factors were identified. (August 1988)

Doctoral dissertation—“Psychopathology and Institutional Adjustment for Incarcerated Adolescents.” This was a two-year longitudinal study of the adjustment patterns of a sample of 84 males remanded to the Illinois Department of Corrections, Juvenile Division. Youth with Axis II (personality disorders), in contrast to Axis I (clinical disorders), were found to have the greatest difficulty with institutional adjustment. (August 1986)

“Effects of Youth Services Intervention on Subsequent Arrests” (unpublished). The results supported the utility of early intervention and diversion from the juvenile justice system of youths involved in minor offenses. (April 1975)

“Effects of Values Clarification on Junior High Problem Students: Attitude Assessment Toward Power and Authority Using Semantic Differential” (unpublished). The results showed that (1) youth who had prior contact with the juvenile justice system had more negative attitudes toward power and authority and (2) subsequent participation in eight sessions of structured values clarification exercises produced an adaptive pro-social shift from their initial attitudes. (April 1972)
